

CONSENT and RELEASE FORM

By signing and returning this consent and release form, I agree to the following terms that will govern the use, publication, modification, reproduction, and distribution of my writing(s) and/or related imagery, including my name. The Prison Insider and its authorized affiliates may use my writing(s) and/or related imagery, at no charge, in The Prison Insider products worldwide, including printed documents, PDF files, and sample files. The Prison Insider may use, reproduce, publish, modify, and distribute my writings(s) and/or related imagery, in whole or in part, alone or with other materials, perpetually, worldwide, and at no charge, but may not materially change or modify it without my prior consent or the consent of my authorized representative (a material change shall mean a substantial modification in the substance and shall not include resizing or other minor editorial changes). The Prison Insider may not allow any other entity to use this material for its sole benefit without our prior permission, except third parties authorized to exercise the above rights on The Prison Insider's behalf. The Prison Insider's authorized uses shall include advertising, internet, video, webcasts, slide presentations, other media, public relations (including, but not limited to, publications, internal newsletters, videos, annual reports, direct marketing), and in other promotional materials. Except for this right to use my writing(s) and/or related imagery, this consent does not include a transfer to The Prison Insider of any intellectual property rights in the material. I further hereby release The Prison Insider from any liability arising from the exercise of the rights granted here. The Prison Insider will include the following credit line when my writing(s) and/or imagery is used. (Indicate how credit should be given. If left blank then no attribution is required.) I have the full right and authority to grant the rights herein, including the appropriate intellectual property rights.
